

Hondo To Be Cleaned Up

On 12 Counts

Grand Jury Indicts Five

Grand Jury for the 38th Judicial District met in the county court house in Hondo Monday and returned 12 indictments in day-long proceedings.

Indicted for forgery and passing a forged instrument was Albert Haywood Allen, who was apprehended attempting to purchase gasoline with a stolen credit card. Bond for Allen was set at $5,000.

Orange William O'Conner and Johnny Marion Taylor, both 17, were each indicted on two counts of burglary. The youthful pair was taken into custody June 25 by Medina County sheriff's deputies after they entered and burglarized two business establishments in Natalia. Bond was set at $1,000 each.

Roger B. Vanzandt was indicted by the jury on four separate counts of forgery and passing forged instruments and two counts of theft of over $50. Vanzandt, 22, was arrested after passing several forged checks in a liquor store on the Bandera road. Bond for Vanzandt was set at $3,500.

Indicted on two counts of burglary of a private residence at night and one count of rape was Norberto Chapa of D'Hanis. Chapa was accused of breaking into a home in D'Hanis July 14 and ravishing a mother of two. He was examined in a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace George Kimmey Friday and sent to the grand jury for action. Chapa is being held in the Medina County Jail, pending trial. Bond has been set at $4,500.

★ Radiosonde Lands In Hondo Friday

A weather sounding instrument, known as a "Radiosonde" was found by three Hondo teenagers in a field at the end of 16th Street Friday afternoon.

The boys, Arthur Reyes, 14, Roberto Hernandez, 14 and Emilio Rodriguez, 12 found the "object from outer space" dangling from a tree. They spotted it in the field by the bright orange parachute attached to it.

The instrument was released from the U.S. weather station at the International Airport in San Antonio Thursday, Aug. 8. While in the air, it transmitted the temperature, pressure and moisture of the air through which it passed by means of a small radio transmitter.

The Radiosonde was wrapped up and sent by mail to the U.S. Weather Bureau, as requested on the cardboard container around it.

★ Thanks Mr. Petri

In last week's issue of the Devine News, Tony Petri, secretary of the Devine Chamber of Commerce, had this to say:

"A county newspaper carried a rather lengthy article containing quotes on the meeting held in Hondo recently on the proposition as to whether the county would be able to pass a bond issue to build a county hospital. ... I understand that there are quite a few readers of that county newspaper in this area, and I would advise them to read the next issue for more details."

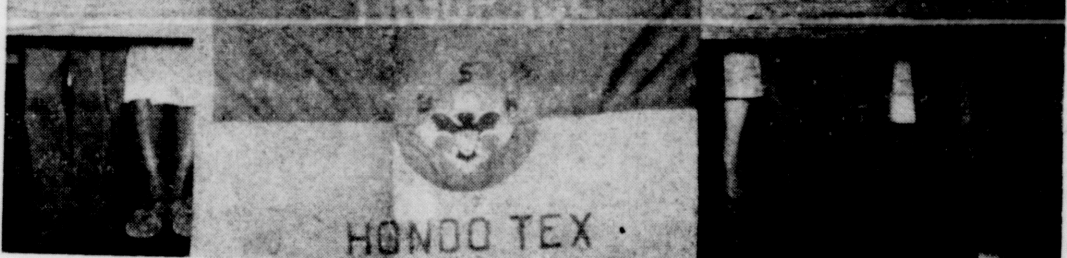

His reference of course, is to the Anvil Herald which has the slogan "Since 1886, all the news of Medina County". We hope everybody will continue reading it too, and thank you, Mr. Petri, for your good advice.

★ Richard Corder Makes 1st Chair In Band Meet

Richard Corder of Hondo attended the band camp at McMurry College in Abilene and occupied the alto sax first chair for the third consecutive year.

The camp lasted two weeks in July. A recital was held the first Wednesday night with all the faculty performing, a chance for students to hear how their instruments should be played. The next Wednesday night Corder participated in the student recital, playing a contest solo.

The program of work and play was filled with courses of student conducting, section rehearsals, solo coaching, twirling and drum majoring, and two periods of band. There were brass and woodwind ensemble classes, a stage band and theory classes. On Friday nights, both bands gave concerts.

SCOUTS on their way are, left to right, Bobby Burden, Kenny Clapham, Russell Beard and Barry Kuykendall, who received their second class badges in a Court of Honor last week. Other boys are, John McAnelly and Clyde Faseler, also members of Troop 192 and behind them, Mrs. Kenneth Clapham, Mrs. Emmett Beard and Mrs. Tom Kuykendall. The mothers received miniature second class pins for their help.

FROM OUTER SPACE came this wierd looking box dangling from a bright orange parachute, or so says the three youngsters who found it. The would-be space-cadets are, left to right, Arthur Reyes, Roberto Hernandez and Emilio Rodriguez. The three seem a little disgruntled to discover the box was a weather sounding instrument.

French General Visits Countrymen At HAB

Major General V. G. Saubestre and four high ranking officers from Lackland AFB visited Hondo Air Base, Tuesday for the purpose of inspecting base facilities and visiting French students in training at Hondo.

Major Alfred D. Gunn, acting Base Commander and Captain Rudolph Strouhal, senior military training instructor received and escorted the visitors on their tour of HAB. The General was military advisor to the French Embassy in Washington, D.C. for the past three years and will be departing for France in the near future, at the expiration of his present tour of duty in the United States. He is making a circuit of all United States military bases where French students are in training under the Mutual Assistance Personnel Act.

The General spent Monday, August 12 at Lackland Air Force Base and arrived in Hondo with Colonel E. M. Hampton, Commandant of the Officer Military School at Lackland; Lieut. Col. W. H. Perkins, Executive Officer of the Officer Military School at Lackland and Lieut. Col. L.A. Montalvo, Commandant of the language school. Also accompanying the General and the Lackland officers was Pierre De Lespinois, chief of instructors at the language school. Also accompanying the General and the Lackland officers was Pierre De Lespinois, chief of instructors at the language school. De Lespinois was a French military assistance personnel student who attended training in the United States during World War II and was a French fighter pilot.

The visiting officers from Lackland stated they were very impressed with the facilities and services at Hondo Air Base and prior to departure stated they intended to return for another visit in the very near future.

Mosquito Campaign Planned This Week

A drive to clean up Hondo and rid the city of mosquito breeding places was kicked off Monday afternoon in a special called meeting of the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce.

Present at the meeting were Capt. Parker and Capt. Tillman Daniel, both doctors at Hondo Air Base. The two doctors presented the group with a survey conducted by them on HAB during June and July.

★ If You 'See Red' It Means Stop

At last week's city council meeting, Chief of Police Orby Swatzell cleared up a question that had caused several Hondo motorists to see red — namely, what to do when the control lights at the intersections of 19th Street (Hwy. 90) and Avenues M and K refuse to turn any color but red.

"A red light means stop," Swatzell said. "Thus when a train is in the block, causing the lights to remain red and blinking, a four-way stop is indicated."

Motorists may then proceed with caution, after they have stopped, as they would at any ordinary blinker light, Swatzell added.

Troop 219 Wins First In Swim Meet

Hondo Boy Scouts grabbed first place honors, several ribbons and medals and a trophy in the Sandai District Swim-Oree in Pearls Tuesday night.

Placing first in the competition was Troop 219 coached by Scoutmaster Ralph Jones and Elmo Pope. Hondo's other troop, 192, won third place in patrol scoring and two individual event first places. Coach of 192 was their Scoutmaster, Tom Kuykendall.

Court Calls Election; Sets County Tax Rate

Meeting Monday in regular session in Hondo, the Commissioners Court officially set a hospital election for Sept. 4. County Judge Arthur Rothe stated that petitions were presented to the court with considerably more qualified signatures than the legally required ten per cent and the commissioners acted in accordance with the request that a tax election be set.

A notice of the election must be posted in each of the county's 21 voting precincts by August 15, according to Judge Rothe. This same notice is being published on page 8 of this edition of the Anvil Herald.

Other Business
Other business considered by the court at their Monday meeting included setting of the tax rate. Based on each $100 valuation, 35 cents is for the general fund, 15 cents for road and bridge fund, 3 cents for improvement fund, 2 cents for jury fund and 50 cents for county wide bond fund.

The court ordered the county judge to request that Medina County's portion of the annual allotment from the state gas tax collected by the Board of County and District Road Indebtedness by assigned by September 1. On that date a credit of $34,295.77 will be turned over to the county and will be equally divided among the four commissioners for use in their precinct. The money is to be used for the construction of or improvement of county lateral roads.

A franchise was granted to Harold Moehring and Arthur Franke to lay a water pipe line across the public road known as Grimsinger-Lieber lane. The line is to be at least 18 inches under the ground in burrow ditch.

To Meet Thursday
The Commissioners will meet again Thursday, Aug. 15 at 2 p.m. with F. M. Davis, district highway engineer, to discuss plans for the farm-to-market road program for 1957-58.

Key Rate Cut
In a recent list of key rate revisions released by the Insurance Department, 68 Texas cities were included.

Hondo, with a reduction of 11 cents, was among the three cities receiving the highest credit. Big Lake headed the list with a reduction of 21 cents, and Rankin listed second with a credit of 17 cents.

Hondo can be justly proud of the City Council and Volunteer Firemen, who are responsible for this saving to the community. Further credits are expected.

Five Wells Completed Near LaCoste

Completion of several shallow wells in the Chicon Lake Field near LaCoste highlighted the Medina County oil news during the past few weeks.

Four of the wells were drilled by M. L. Wise on the Joseph Gross property three miles south east of LaCoste. It is a 91.5-acre lease in the R. Latham Survey No. 41.

The other completion is the Leo R. Hewitt No. 1 Jack Hewitt, two miles north of Natalia, on a 6.44 acre lease in the J. Emmerich Survey No. 422.

The Hewitt well was completed at a total depth of 459 feet, with initial production potential was listed as 1 1/2 barrels of oil daily, plus 65 per cent water, with a gravity of 19. Production is from the Navarro.

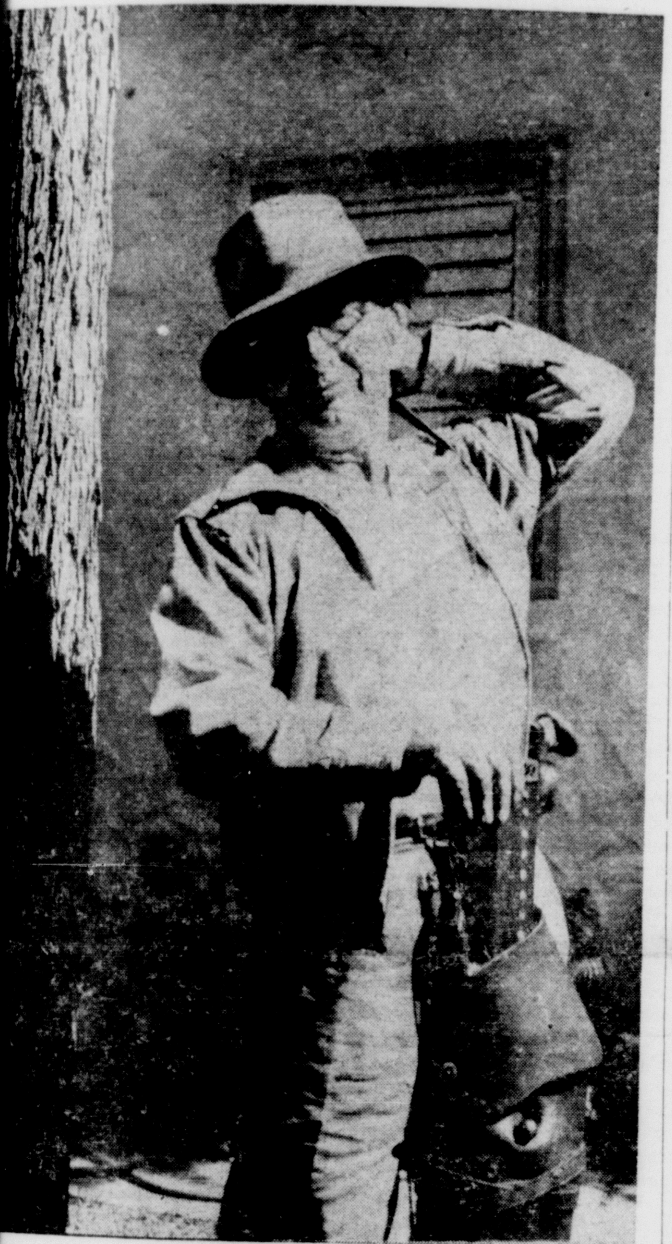

The No. 1 Gross was drilled to 460 feet and the pay was topped at 443 feet. IPP was listed as nine barrels daily, gravity 21, from the Navarro.

Next was the No. 3 Gross, drilled to 440 feet with the pay topped at 416 feet. IPP was seven barrels daily, gravity 21, from the Navarro.

The pay was topped at 408 feet on the No. 4 Gross, which was drilled to 431 feet. IPP figures were the same as on the No. 3 well.

Another 450-foot test planned in the Chicon Creek Field is the G&W Oil & Gas Co. No. 5 J. H. Lamon. It is five miles southwest of LaCoste on a 41-acre lease in the Wm. Hawkins Survey No. 65.

Rhodes Drilling Co. of Abilene plans three 950-foot tests in the Taylor-Ina Field on the 155-acre Hondo Creek lease, which is in the E. H. Durst Survey No. 16.

AFRICA BOUND is Ray Jennings, who left last week for Kenya, Africa on a month-long big game hunt. Jennings hopes to bag the big five elephant, lion, leopard, rhino and buffalo while in the Dark Continent.

Maj. Gordon Curty New AB Chaplain

Maj. Gordon C. Curty, his wife, Elaine, and their nine year daughter, Deanna, arrived in Hondo July 31 where Chaplain Curty took over the duties in Chapel at Hondo Air Base. Maj. Curty was chaplain at Fort Harmon Air Force Base, Newfoundland, Canada for 10 years before his transfer to Hondo.

Curty, ordained minister of the Methodist Church with his home in Pennsylvania, he has had 13 years of active service in the Army and Air Force, serving in the European Theatre during WW. W. II. He was awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service during the final period of hostilities from December 1944 to April 1945.

Mrs. Curty and Deanna were with Chaplain Curty in Newfoundland and all three of them welcome the drastic change from cold to warm temperature.

"It is always cool, never warm, in Newfoundland," commented Chaplain Curty, "with a biting wind blowing. This past winter was severe. We went through six weeks of sub zero weather. There is very little sunshine, so we welcome this wonderful sunshine and all we want to do is soak up as much of it as possible."

Chaplain Curty and his family are not newcomers to Texas, having spent three years at Lackland AFB.

"Everywhere we have turned in Hondo," said Chaplain Curty, "people have been friendly and have gone out of their way to be helpful and kind. Had we known about Hondo when we were stationed at Lackland, we might have preferred to live here!" I know we are going to like living in Hondo.

Trucker Hit By Tire Rim

Louis L. Wise, a truck driver from Abilene, was seriously injured early Tuesday morning by a rim that flew out of a tire he was repairing in a Castroville service station.

Wise was struck across the knees by the rim and fell back on a grease rack, striking his head. He was taken to the Castroville Clinic and treated for cuts on the head and knees and a possible skull fracture. He was removed to a San Antonio hospital Tuesday afternoon.

Doves Need Place To Roost

About 50 young lieutenants staged at Hondo Air Base have been asking where they could go and some dove hunting this and the request has been referred to the Hondo Chamber of Commerce.

Students can get away only once or twice in a month, and just on Saturday, but they are anxious to try their luck in shooting.

Farmers or ranchers who are willing to let two or three of the students get in a few birds would be helping the Hondo Chamber of Commerce and leave their names with Winnie Braden. She will relay information to the base, and then will then know where to go who to see.

Amendments To Constitution

A series of proposed amendments to the Constitution of Medina County is being published in this week's issue of the Anvil Herald (page 7).

These amendments will be presented to voters in a special election Nov. 5, 1957.

CHAPTER II

OF A TEXAS PIONEER

More About The Author's

Boyhood Days

"My father always showed a strong affection for me and I was warmly attached to him. I often accompanied him on his journeys away from home, and I am inclined to think that my mischief-making propensities influenced him to remove me from familiar associations where he took me with him. He made frequent trips to Port Lavaca with his ox-wagon, when his team was not needed on the farm, and he received a fair compensation for hauling freight both ways between that point and San Antonio. I was not only his traveling companion on such occasions, but I made myself useful by driving the oxen and was able to do many things that were appreciated.

"My father once contracted with a party in San Antonio to haul a load of pine lumber from a mill near Bastrop, on the Colorado River, and I went with him. Bastrop was then a small village with a few scattering houses, and the night we camped in the town a public meeting was held in the open air which I attended. I have no recollection of what it was about, although I had ever heard, but I do remember that the place was lit up by torches made of pine-knots and that they furnished the most beautiful light I had ever seen. I was only about eight years old then, and when I learned that I could get pine-knots for the trouble of gathering them, I lost no time the next day in collecting all I wanted, although the task was not as easy as I expected. On the way home I illuminated our camp every night and had some left with which I lit up the premises to please a few of my young friends. They were delighted, because they had never seen anything so brilliant before, but the exhibition closed when I hardly missed setting fire to the corn-crib.

"The light they had been accustomed to see was made by wrapping a rag around a stick and saturating it with lard; the lower end was then stuck in a coffee cup half full of sand, and the cup was filled with rendered lard or melted tallow. It made a very dim light, but it was the best we could before candle molds were introduced, which were used by everybody who made tallow candles, until sperm candles of northern manufacture were placed on the market. The first I ever saw was in Castroville, in 1855, when three of them sold for twenty-five cents, but they were too high-priced for common use and more than the poorer people of that region could afford to pay.

"My father was an indulgent parent and he allowed his children many privileges, but he could be severe in his punishments when their misconduct made it necessary, and our mother was equally kind and affectionate. Under such influences the hardships that circumstances imposed upon us were not felt and we retained pleasant memories of our childhood. Our opportunities for an education were limited, and in my case frequent interruptions occurred so that my school days if added together would represent a very short period.

"I remember a donkey which was identified with my school experiences that, incidentally, was the cause of many fights and any amount of trouble, but it is not worthwhile to discuss them. He had a disposition that was rather eccentric and he indulged his whims whenever it suited him. He was always in request on weekdays, and on Sundays some of the children rode him to church. I will never forget the sensation he created one Sabbath morning when the services were being concluded. The minister was reading from the Bible and the congregation was devoutly listening to the lesson in which the word Hallelujah appears. As he raised his voice to an unusually loud pitch when repeating the word, the donkey, that was grazing near the window, thought, perhaps, that the exclamation invited a response. A moment later his head appeared in the opening and he uttered a refrain in prolonged strains such as only a donkey can express, until the solemnities were disturbed and the preacher even, although somewhat disconcerted, could not suppress a smile.

"My father owned a small bunch of horses that were not easily controlled and the donkey was our stand-by until we got rid of a wild gray mare that could rarely be penned and she always led the herd. One Sunday, when my parents were at church, we managed to get her in the pen and after roping and throwing her, with the assistance of several visiting boys, I tied a dried cow's hide securely to her tail. When I turned her loose she dashed out of the enclosure and as the rattling raw-hide drove her frantic with fright her headlong flight was continued until she was lost to view. She was never seen afterwards and we came to the conclusion that she was drowned in the Medina River or else she had run herself to death. My father was kept in ignorance of our performance for some time until he missed her, and he did not appear to regret her disappearance because he knew her to be worthless.

Trial by Jury Fundamental

By Bill Berger

When influential and high-ranking government officials of the United States go on record against the principle of trial by jury, whether it is aimed at the South or not, it is time for Americans to become alarmed.

During the recent Senate debate over "civil rights" there were those who wanted to give Federal judges the power to determine a man's innocence or guilt, and to impose jail sentences with no provision for a jury to weigh the evidence.

As long as the judge is acting in accord with right and justice, some folks might not be disturbed. But our long history of freedom, beginning in early England, and reinforced through the centuries has given us the idea that no man should be deprived of his liberty without an appeal to a jury of his peers if he desires that privilege.

It is not always the efficient way. It is much quicker and more economical for the judge to decide by himself whether or not a man should be punished.

Sometimes there may be jurors who can not be convinced, and they may set a guilty man free. One thing certain, however, and that is this. It is much harder to find twelve men who will all make the same mistake than to find one who can be in error.

It is unfortunate that we have a United States attorney general who can be responsible for drawing up such an attack on the rights of free men, and it was a sad day for our country when the President himself was induced to take a stand against jury trials in any kind of case.

We are grateful that our U. S. Senate stopped that action and revealed the hidden meanings of the attack on our rights before it could be slipped by. Texans can be proud, too, that their senior senator played a big part in changing the bill.

President Dwight Eisenhower And Broken Campaign Promise

Treasury Secretary George Humphrey was on the stand before a Senate committee the other day, and the quizzer was Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, the old watchdog of the Treasury. Byrd reminded Humphrey that Ike had promised to cut the budget to $60 billion, if elected, "but it's now 72." Humphrey replied somewhat facetiously: "That was before he was elected." With that, everybody in the hearing room roared with laughter.

We fail to see the humor. Is a broken promise to be greeted with a belly laugh? Is the American public to accept cynically or facetiously the words of its leaders?

SECO SAYS IT'S

Not Illegal To Spend More Than You Make

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has sighted an alarming trend, but what probably ought to alarm him is the state of his farm, not the state of the country.

Dear editor: A newspaper fell out of an airplane over my farm out here yesterday, one of my neighbors thought it was a hydrogen bomb and ran for cover but I knew better, anybody smart enough to make a hydrogen bomb would have too much sense to waste one on a farm like mine — from the air I imagine my farm looks like a place some bomb-dropper has already beaten the other fellow to — and I sat where I was and watched it float down, marked the place in my mind where it fell and after I got through resting I walked over and picked it up and since one place is about as good as another to sit back down in I sat back down right there and read it. If I'd been thinking I wouldn't even have reached down to pick it up, but would have sat down beside it and saved the effort, but a man can't think all the time.

Wasn't much in it except for one article that struck me right between the eyes and sounded worse than a hydrogen bomb in its after-effects.

According to it, a man was being tried in Federal court for income tax evasion and the prosecuting attorney was trying to prove he didn't report all his income one year because his records showed he spent more than he claimed he took in.

The prosecuting attorney said this was clear evidence he hadn't reported all his income.

I don't know whether you realize it or not, but such a line of argument is a threat to the entire installment-buying economy of the United States and will destroy the peace of mind of three-fourths of the people.

If the government is going to take the attitude that anybody who spends more in one year than he makes is obviously knocking down on his income tax, there's going to be the biggest shortage of defense lawyers in the history of the universe.

If the government is so far out of touch with reality it thinks it can make a case against everybody who finishes up a year spending more than he made, practically everybody might as well turn himself in and plead for mercy.

And come to think of it, two years out of three, the Federal government itself spends more than it takes in, and who we gonna get to try it?

I'm not in favor of cheating on your income tax, but if Washington figures anybody who spends more than he makes is guilty of it, all I've got to say is sidetrack the Federal road-building program, call off foreign aid and halt all the defense spending, put all the funds in one pot and start building jails.

I think there ought to be a law against spending more than you make, but take this up with your family and see how far you get.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE

BY JERRY JUNE BERGER

Just about the time the lights go on at the swimming pool each evening, baby toads begin to converge on the place. Not many of them actually hop into the water, but lots of them close in on the pool and get their exercise jumping about on the sidewalk. Then the youngsters in swimming get some extra exercise grabbing for them.

Wednesday night KAREN KUYKENDALL gave chase after one. Her mother, MRS. TOM (JOYCE) KUYKENDALL, was sitting on the sidelines reading a book, glancing up every now and then to make sure her daughter was above water, when suddenly she gave out with a screech. A baby frog had, quite surprisingly, landed in her lap and Miss KAREN headed back into the pool in a hurry. JOYCE had a few direct words for her daughter, after which the latter replied, "But Mommy. It took all my skill just to catch that frog."

And Mommy then mumbled a few words about using some skill with the palm of her hand if it happened again, but by this time she couldn't help being somewhat amused too. It is rather difficult to stay provoked at an 8-year old for very long.

Friday night MICHAEL PENNINGTON pulled the same stunt on his mother, MRS. J. T. PENNINGTON, and got about the same reaction. She commented, though, that she had always been kinda afraid of them — that she grew up believing what adults had told her about playing with frogs and then getting warts. She's convinced now it isn't true after seeing her 6-year old play with them, but still has a scare reaction when they land unexpectedly in her lap. But then, who hasn't?

Washington Newsletter

From Lyndon Johnson

Dear Friend:

The Senate has passed the so-called civil rights bill. And in so doing, it has justified the faith of the American people in its ability to handle issues on the merits — and not just on the politics.

As the bill came to the Senate, it was a confused mixture of vague ideas and bitter desires to "punish" the South. It was sectional legislation — an effort to gang up on one part of the country.

It revived long dead Reconstruction statutes.

It authorized the use of troops to enforce "civil rights."

It threatened to deprive men accused of crimes of the right to a jury trial.

The Senate refused to be stampeded. It insisted on going over the bill line by line: page by page. The debate did not split on sectional lines. Senators examined the measure as serious men seeking to solve a serious problem.

Senator Anderson, of New Mexico, and Senator Aiken, of Vermont, took the lead in knocking out the reconstruction statutes. Senator O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, insisted that the jury trial was too vital a right to be by-passed.

One of the most effective jury trial speeches was made by Senator Pastore, of Rhode Island. Senator Mansfield, of Montana, took a firm stand against the Reconstruction statutes.

Americans should always be grateful to these men. They are dedicated to the cause of civil rights. But they do not believe that legislation should be designed to punish one section of the country. They do not believe that any right — civil or otherwise — can be advanced by sacrificing other rights — like the jury trial.

The bill in its final form represented reasonable legislation. It was national — rather than sectional — legislation. It disappointed the more ardent "civil rights" partisans. But reasonable men recognized it for what it was — effective, enforceable legislation that honorable men could support.

And its enforcement provisions applied only to the right to vote. Therefore, I supported the bill.

Traffic was resumed at 11 p.m. last Sunday on the Southern Pacific lines east and west through Hondo just 14 hours after a west-bound freight train piled up on one of its own trucks about four miles east of Hondo resulting in derailment of 16 cars. The wreck occurred between 8:30 and 8:45 a.m. Sunday, when, according to unofficial reports, the supports on one of the trucks broke. The cars were loaded with sulphur, canned goods, wine and various other materials. One car was loaded with unslacked lime which caught fire Monday night when rain water got to it. Unslacked lime fires on contact with water. Hondo firemen went to the scene, but since water could not stop it, the lime burned.

O. A. Fly entered a motion at a meeting of the city council Monday, August 11, to the effect that the city electric system be directed to cease sale and delivery of electrical appliances effective September 1, 1947. Richard Reilly seconded the motion, and was carried unanimously.

In an election held Saturday, August 14, in the LaCoste school district, bonds were voted into the amount of $18,000 for the purpose of building an additional school to meet requirements for affiliation. The vote was 67 to 17 in favor of the bonds.

Yancey — Supt. W. N. Saathoff and family were here Sunday for a short visit after having been to see the gasser that is running wild on th J. P. Nixon lease. It was reported that more than 100 cars were there Sunday afternoon. A new gasser was brought in about 5 o'clock, and after blowing out for several minutes was put under control valves that had been previously arranged and is estimated at 24,000,000 cubic feet. The new gasser is an immense thing and every one ought to take time to go and see it.

Work is progressing nicely on the new school building and the structure is nearing completion. The contractors expect to have it finished in about two more weeks. At any rate, nothing but an unusual delay can prevent its being ready for occupancy by about the 12th of September, when school will open for the term.

Americans should always be grateful to these men. They are dedicated to the cause of civil rights. But they do not believe that legislation should be designed to punish one section of the country. They do not believe that any right — civil or otherwise — can be advanced by sacrificing other rights — like the jury trial.

The bill in its final form represented reasonable legislation. It was national — rather than sectional — legislation. It disappointed the more ardent "civil rights" partisans. But reasonable men recognized it for what it was — effective, enforceable legislation that honorable men could support.

And its enforcement provisions applied only to the right to vote. Therefore, I supported the bill.

SECO SAYS IT'S

Not Illegal To Spend More Than You Make

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has sighted an alarming trend, but what probably ought to alarm him is the state of his farm, not the state of the country.

Dear editor: A newspaper fell out of an airplane over my farm out here yesterday, one of my neighbors thought it was a hydrogen bomb and ran for cover but I knew better, anybody smart enough to make a hydrogen bomb would have too much sense to waste one on a farm like mine — from the air I imagine my farm looks like a place some bomb-dropper has already beaten the other fellow to — and I sat where I was and watched it float down, marked the place in my mind where it fell and after I got through resting I walked over and picked it up and since one place is about as good as another to sit back down in I sat back down right there and read it. If I'd been thinking I wouldn't even have reached down to pick it up, but would have sat down beside it and saved the effort, but a man can't think all the time.

Wasn't much in it except for one article that struck me right between the eyes and sounded worse than a hydrogen bomb in its after-effects.

According to it, a man was being tried in Federal court for income tax evasion and the prosecuting attorney was trying to prove he didn't report all his income one year because his records showed he spent more than he claimed he took in.

KILGORE'S CAPITOL COMMENTS

THE HOUSE this week passed by a record vote of 330 yeas to 75 nays, a supplemental appropriations bill for fiscal year 1958 totaling $1,581,590,387. This represents a cut of $279,158,380 or a fraction more than 15 per cent from the President's request of $1,860,748,967. This leaves only one more money bill for the House to act on before we adjourn — foreign aid.

THERE WAS a difference of $375 million between House and Senate versions of the bill authorizing appropriations for foreign aid. The House had voted to authorize $3,242,333,000 for the program, while the Senate voted an additional $375 million. The conference committee composed of members of both houses reached agreement on $3,367,083,000, but until the conference committee report is adopted by both houses the funds for the program cannot be acted upon.

I MENTIONED several weeks ago that our three boys are quite anxious to get home to Texas. It not only is still true, but their impatience has increased to the point that each night they ask about the adjournment. A few days ago my youngest son, Billy, called the office and asked me again, "When are we going home?" I told him I didn't know and he promptly fired back, "Couldn't you ask your boss?" I told him it was hard to figure just who the boss is, so he countered with, "Well, could I talk to the man who owns the place?" It's a little hard to explain these things to a six year old.

COMPETITIVE examinations for appointment as a cadet in the United States Coast Guard Academy will be held 24 and 25 February 1958. There is no Congressional appointment to the Coast Guard Academy as there are to West Point and the Air Force and Naval academies. The Coast Guard Academy selects its cadets on a nationwide basis on the results of the competitive examinations. Applicants must be high school graduates (or candidates for graduation by 30 June 1958). They must be in excellent physical condition, 64 to 78 inches tall, and have uncorrected 20-20 vision in each eye. Upon completion of training at the academy, cadets are commissioned as Ensigns in the U.S. Coast Guard and are awarded bachelor of science degrees. Following graduation, officers may apply for flight training as well as for other post graduate courses conducted at the advanced military schools and leading universities and colleges throughout the country. Additional information and application forms may be obtained from the U.S. Coast Guard, Washington 25, D.C. Application forms must be returned before 15 January 1958.

St. Paul's Luther League, at their monthly meeting, elected Judy Nester as vice president to succeed Barbara Brucks, who is leaving for Texas Lutheran College this fall.

The meeting closed with the singing of "O Christians League Together." Refreshments were served to members and visitors.

A Few Decades Past . . .

A NEWSPAPER WAS A RARITY IN MANY AMERICAN COMMUNITIES!

Then—a newspaper was a thing to be marveled at—for memories of the Press' fight for freedom were fresh in mind. Although newspapers are common in our country today, their existence should not be taken for granted. It is a wonderful fact that almost all of our modern communities have their own hometown newspapers, freely edited by members of their own communities—spreading the news, stimulating the business of the community, and keeping their readers informed of important events elsewhere. It is well to keep in mind that a free press and a free people are an unbeatable team.

Seco Philosopher Talks On Today's Hard Money

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses money this week, a subject he seems to have mostly a theoretical knowledge of.

Dear editor:

I was out here on my farm yesterday afternoon sitting in the shade of a tree meditating on the hard money policy I understand is now in effect, which puzzles me as the newspapers are full of talk about this as though it was something new, whereas I always thought a hard money policy had been in effect ever since I learned it took a nickel to buy an ice cream cone. Is there any other kind?

At any rate I got to watching a newspaper blowing along the ground and was speculating on whether it would blow over close enough for me to reach it without getting up, I don't mind get-

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

From The Bible

Cause me to hear Thy loving-kindness in the morning; for in Thee do I trust; cause me to know the way wherein I should walk, for I lift up my soul unto Thee.—(Psalm 143, 8.)

Those who begin each day by thanking God for His love and His blessings and for a new opportunity to serve Him by loving and helping others, will find joy and strength abundant; obedient to His will, they are guided into righteousness.

D'Hanis Wins; Playoff With Hondo 18th

D'Hanis stayed in the Highway 90 League playoffs by defeating the Hondo Braves 5-4 on Pirate Field Sunday.

The two teams now each have won one game; the rubber game will be played Sunday, Aug. 18, in D'Hanis. Winner of the game will meet the winner of the Castroville-LaCoste series for the league championship.

The Pirates scored first in the first on a double by Bob Rothe. Rothe stole third and tallied on an error. Merle Wiemers, starting pitcher for the Braves, promptly retired the next 12 men in order before being relieved in the seventh after a barrage of Pirate hits.

Winning pitcher was Harlan Wolff, who gave up 10 hits, 4 runs and fanned 6.

D'Hanis scored once in the sixth on singles by Bob Rothe and Charles McFarland and a long sacrifice fly by Horace Langfeld. The run which proved to be the winning one was scored in the eighth by Bonard Rothe who established himself on second on an error, stole third and scored on a squeeze bunt by Langfeld.

Hondo scored their only earned runs in the ninth with two out. Wolff struck out the first two batters, and ran the count to two and two on G. Finger. Finger tagged the next pitch over the left field fence. Dick Lynch, the next Brave hitter, singled and was pushed across to score by Glenn Schweers' triple to right center. D'Hanis sewed up the game on a bouncing ball hit to the second baseman by Bill Laughinghouse, which retired the side.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to express my sincere thanks for all the cards, flowers, gifts and other kind remembrances shown me while I was recovering from my recent accident. Your kindness will be long remembered by my family and me. Billie Joe Mumme

He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully.— (II Corinthians 9, 6.)

There is no one so poor that he cannot give of brotherly love—of kindness, tolerance, consideration, and a helping hand to someone less fortunate. The more we give, the more gladly we give in His name, the more we shall receive Several people from Medina County attended the recent meeting in San Antonio to hear the new egg law discussed. There was considerable interest in holding a school this fall to teach something about egg grading. If you are planning to do this with your eggs, it would be a good idea to get these bulletins prior to the next meeting: C-318 "Marketing Standards for Grading Eggs" and L-339 "Most Enemies to Egg Quality".

The July issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine points out the new fishing law that becomes effective Sept. 1.

I. It shall be unlawful for any person to fish in any waters of this state without first obtaining a fishing license, the fee for which shall be $2.15.

II. Exceptions:

A. No person under 17 years of age and no person over sixty five years of age shall be required to possess a sports fishing license.

B. No person, or member of such person's immediate family, shall be required to hold a sports fishing license when fishing upon property he owns or upon which he resides.

C. No license shall be required of persons fishing with trotline, throw line, or ordinary pole and line having no reel or other winding device attached when fishing in the county of his residence.

D. No other fishing license shall be required of a person who holds a commercial fishing license issued in this state.

Around July 1 the District Director of Internal Revenue sent me a limited number of applications for the return of the federal tax on gasoline used of the farm. At the same time all persons who submitted applications last year received a form to be used. If you are still in the need of one of these applications, write a card to the local office or if in Hondo they are on the table in the hall in front of the office. Several persons have asked about the place to mail the applications. They are to be mailed to Austin.

Any boy or girl interested in feeding fine wool lambs for the Medina County Junior Fat Stock Show will have the opportunity to get them on Thursday, August 22, at 9 a.m., at the Marcus Garrison ranch 15 miles north of Hondo on the Tarpley Road. Select lambs will be available from the Garrison and Felix Billings flocks.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

The days may be hot and dry, but farmers and ranchers in the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District are still applying sound conservation practices on their land.

Otto Reitzer is preparing for 8,000 feet of terraces to be constructed on his 270 acre farm near Yancey. Terraces are not new to Otto, for he terraced most of his land 25 years ago, and has faithfully farmed on the contour with his terraces each year. He can speak freely on their value in conserving soil, preventing water erosion, and increasing crop production.

C. J. Monkhouse and C. D. Sadler are preparing to construct several miles of terraces near Hondo on the Monkhouse farm. Paul Oefinger has completed a diversion terrace on his ranch. This diversion is 1,800 feet long, and will divert all outside water from hitting his productive crop land. The diversion carried the runoff water from hills around his field and into a safe outlet, emptying into a small creek. This gives his field full protection against outside water and will do much in the prevention of erosion in his cropland.

Rootplowing and seeding of Blue Panic has been completed on 50 acres of brushland on the H. G. Floerke Ranch west of D'hanis. Realizing the value of good grass, and the damage done to rangeland by white brush, Mr. Floerke has started rootplowing and reseeding his rangeland to blue panic. His plans are to do more rootplowing in the future. Fred Bader has completed root-

SCHOOL 'WASTES' CITED

Need for a little overhauling here and there in the Gilmer-Aik in school aid program is suggested in a new Texas Research League report.

Under the "minimum foundation" program the state contributes the money necessary to bring the smaller, poorer district up to standard.

Research League pointed out that (1) under the scholastic apportionment formula (so much per pupil) some districts actually receive more money than their minimum foundation needs. And (2) guaranteed state contributions discourage local efforts to improve by raising taxes.

It's a system, says the League, that tends to perpetuate "educationally inadequate" districts.

HARRISON NAMED

William A. Harrison, 47, apparently is to be the key man in a program designed to provide Texas with model insurance regulation.

Harrison, who has been serving temporarily without pay since June 21, was named by the Insurance Board to a two-year term, beginning Sept. 1. Senate must confirm the appointment.

The former assistant state auditor moved into the second highest paid job in Texas government $20,000 per year.

One of his first tasks will be to expand the department's staff of insurance company examiners. Recent legislation provided for 26 new men, bringing the staff to 65. Former department officials had complained they didn't have enough examiners to keep tabs on the thousands of companies operating in Texas.

BUSINESS PLATEAU

Texas business activity for the first half of 1956 is up four per cent over 1955. This despite an 11 per cent drop from May to June, says the UT Bureau of Business Research.

UT analysts say it looks as if the breathing rise of the past few years has lost its momentum. But they see no "strong evidence of the beginning of a downward trend." They foresee, instead, Texas business continuing, with minor ups and downs, on its present high plateau.

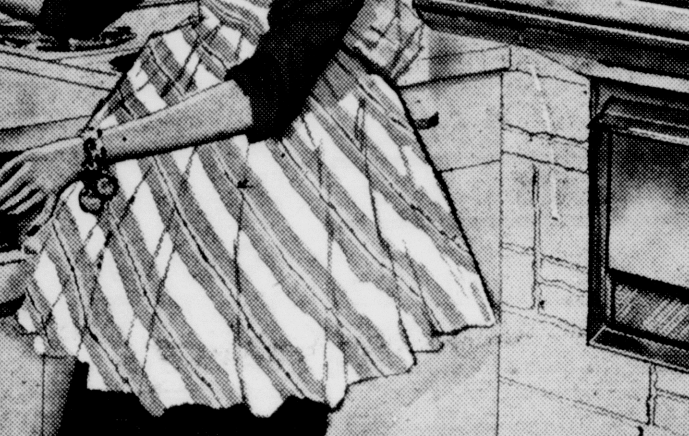

IT'LL COST US TOO

Texans who think the federal government is going to take care of all their highway problems now are due for disillusionment.

So says State Highway Commissioner Chairman Marshall Formby. Interstate highways paid for with federal funds will take care of only 15 per cent of the state's traffic load, said Formby. Bringing the other 84 per cent of state roads to first-class condition will cost $2,000,000,000.

With present funds of $80,000,000 to $90,000,000 a year, it'll take 22 years, he said. "And by that time we'll need more four-lane roads."

Applications Now Ready For Antelope

Applications now are being taken for issuance of antelope hunt permits in two Texas areas in October. All applications must be in the office of the Texas Game and Fish Commission by Aug. 31, according to the chief clerk.

The first hunt will be in the Trans-Pecos area, where either buck or doe may be killed under the permit. This hunt will be divided into two periods, October 1-3, and October 5-7.

In the Panhandle the hunt will be October 14-16 and 17-19 inclusive. These will be for buck only.

Persons wanting to hunt in either area should write to the Game and Fish Commission in Austin for application blanks at once. All applications must be received in Austin by midnight, Aug. 31. A $5 fee must accompany each application and no permits will be issued except where application has been made on the official blank.

Drawing for places on the hunt will be held as soon after September 1, as possible, according to the chief clerk.

NEW LAND TROUBLES

Who, if anyone, should pay the back taxes on land bought under the Veterans Land program, then forfeited by the purchaser? State and local officials are in disagreement. Lack of specific legislation on this subject has resulted in two lawsuits.

In the early days of the land program a lot of veterans apparently bought land at more than they could afford. Things got drouthy, many fell behind on taxes and payments, finally had to give up and let the land go back to the Veterans Land Board. In time the board re-sold such tracts to other veterans.

Local taxing units, such as the Bexar-Atascosa-Medina Water District, say somebody has to pay the piper. It demands payment of the back taxes unpaid by the first purchaser and of the taxes that accumulated during the period when the land was forfeited to the state. Without this money, say district officials, they'll have a hard time paying off their bonds.

Viewpoint of the state, however, is that taxes ceased when the land returned to the board and that the resale was free of tax debt.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITAL

AUSTIN

House members are rather short on enthusiasm for a special session of the Legislature, says Speaker Waggoner Carr.

In a poll of the House, Carr received 101 answers from 140 members. Seventy said they did not feel a special session necessary. Seventeen said they thought it was necessary; and 12 said they were willing to leave it up to the governor.

In announcing the poll results, Carr emphasized that he's all for lobby control and water conservation, the two measures Gov. Price Daniel has said he wants passed. House members, Carr reminded, approved both lobby and water bills last session.

But, said Carr, he still isn't convinced the state can afford the extra session without new taxes. In reply, Governor Daniel repeated a previous statement that he would not be able to legislate a special session, or more than twice what a short session would cost.

Outlook probably is this: A special session will be held. There'll be no open rebellion, though possibly a little legislative foot-dragging.

ASK FIRST

Various departments of the State are playing it safe today. They don't want to run afoul of what has been termed "the new moral atmosphere in Texas."

Indicative of the new trend is the "ask-first" attitude that has developed. Result: Many requests of the attorney general for rulings.

In an opinion give State Auditor C. H. Cavness it was ruled that it would be legal for a state college cafeteria to buy its milk from a dairy owned by a legislator.

Inasmuch as the Texas Constitution prohibits a lawmaker from receiving an office created during his legislative term, the Board of Pardon and Paroles asked if it would be legal for Rep. J. T. Ellis Jr. of Weslaco to be director of the new adult parole supervision system set up by the Legislature.

"This is a job, not an office," rules the attorney general.

SHORT SNORTS

O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Prison System at Huntsville, reports that the prison is in urgent need of more guards. Capitol guards are not "peace officers," ruled Atty. Gen. Will Wilson. Therefore, they cannot issue parking tickets or make arrests, except "to prevent the consequences of a theft."

State Health Commissioner Henry Holte reports an outbreak of 32 cases of sleeping sickness in Cameron County. No statewide epidemic is expected. Texas Farm Bureau President Walter Hammond says the federal soil bank program probably is doomed after next year. He is credited with originating the soil bank idea. But his proposal did not include payments for retired acreage. Texas will enter the new fiscal year Sept. 1 with a cash balance of something like $48,000,000 in the general revenue fund, according to figures from State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert. Fund had $44,765,760 on Aug. 1. Continued increase at the same rate as during July would add $3,500,000 more this month.

Mrs. Jungman Dies In Devine

Funeral services were held July 7, 1957 for Mrs. Alvina Jungman nee Naegelin, 85, of Devine. Low Mass was offered Sunday and Requiem Mass July 8, the Rev. Ralph Smith officiating. Interment was in the Devine cemetery.

Mrs. Jungman had been ill for several months before her death. She was born in Castroville and married to Louis Jungman, who preceded her in death.

She is survived by four sons, Edwin of Castroville, Louis and Raymond of Devine and Phillip of San Antonio; four daughters, Miss Olivia Jungman, Mrs. Fritz Rihm, Mrs. Ed Schneider, all of Devine and Mrs. Josie Posch of Castroville; 27 grandchildren, 57 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

PAGING THE LADIES

Mrs. Auda Vee McCrea

Daniels, McCrea Wed In Dallas Ceremony

The altar of the First Seventh Day Adventist Church of Dallas was decorated with palm sprays and baskets of white gladioli and carnations for the candlelight wedding of Miss Jeanette Daniels to Auda Vee McCrea of Yancey on July 14.

Miss Daniels is the daughter of Mrs. Bertha A. Daniels of Glade-water. Auda Vee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McCrea of Yancey.

The Elder Benjamin Leach officiated at the exchange of marriage vows as Mrs. Dick Barron, at the console of the organ, played traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, the Elder Henry Barron, as he sang "At Dawning" and the "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her mother, the bride wore a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The figurine bodice of lace, with a modified Sabrina neckline of French tulle with lace scrolls, was designed with brief lace sleeves complemented by lace mitts. The bouffant skirt of layers of gossamer tulle was enhanced with lace. She carried a bridal spray of white orchids and carnations.

Mrs. Don Haisell of Mesquite was matron of honor and Mrs. John Carlisle and Miss Judy Curtis, both of Dallas, served as bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of white eyelet embroidery over cornflower blue taffeta with bandeaux and shoes to match. They carried sprays of pink carnations.

Serving the groom as best man was Don Haisell of Mesquite; John Carlisle, and Mack Elliott, both of Dallas, were groomsmen. Jim Bob Haisell, Gene Cunningham and Harold Collum, also of Dallas, were ushers.

A reception, following the ceremony, was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Judge in Dallas. Presiding at the bride's book, the cake and the punch bowl were Mrs. Dorothy Barkhurst, Miss Virginia Means and Miss Melba Mundy.

The young couple spent their honeymoon in Mexico City and are now living in Yancey.

Paula Itz, organist, provided the nuptial music and she accompanied Mrs. L. J. Durkop as she sang "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer." The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and candles.

Kneese gave his daughter in marriage. For that never-to-be-forgotten day, she was radiant in her beautiful gown of lace over satin with its full skirt going into chapel length train. The gown was highlighted by a high stand up Queen Anne type collar which was studded with pearls. The long sleeves came to cala points. She wore a snug fitting cap of lace embroidered with seed pearls fashioned and designed by Mrs. Monroe Wahl. White aster, pink roses and garlands of ivy formed her cascade bouquet.

Mrs. G. R. Bergsten of Wichita was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Joyce Woerner, Elizabeth Ottmers and Elaine Winkler, San Antonio. They were attired in blue embroidered crystalline gowns with sabrina necklines which dipped to a deep V in the back. The full gathered skirts were over net. They wore small half-moon hats beaded with pearls, matching shoes, and pearl bracelets, gift of the bride. Pink Elsie roses and pink asters formed their bouquets.

Linda Kay Bergsten, niece, wore a white embroidered nylon dress with a blue ribbon drawn through the bodice and skirt. The little flower girl carried a drawstring bag with pink roses. She was wearing a blue heartbracelet, a gift of the bride.

Hubert Nester of D'Hanis was his brother's best man. Lester Mechler of San Antonio, John Allen Wright of Hondo, and Phelix Cowan of Elsa were groomsmen. Marty Mechler of Hondo and Ronnie Bergsten of Wichita were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kneese chose a navy blue suit-dress with navy and white accessories. Mrs. Nester chose a navy blue suit with navy and light blue accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations. The grandmothers, Mrs. A. H. Kneese and Mrs. Alfred Nester of D'Hanis, wore white carnations.

A reception and turkey dinner was held in the church basement. Carol Ann Gold was in charge of the bridesbook in which about 150 guests registered.
